In a preceding issue of this column it was stated that the babbling brooks and bachelors were moved to the front of the room and the angels to the back apparently R. C. and S. T. must beangels with dirty faces. Miss Shultz was very disappointed when she learned that her services were not required in looking after students from the lower grades in Calgary.

Lauretta is all smiles these days because the desk in front is occupied. Welcome back Jerry.

Eva Laiff was walking down the street carrying her golf clubs. When asked she said, "rain never stopped a good golfer."

Jock McIntyre, Editor

The ink of rain that has fallen since our last issue will bring such relief to the crops and residents as it was badly needed. The weather might not be completely disagreeable, having only missed by a week.

The new Calson can stove, the 1939 models are here for your inspection, and they are dandies.

The new Municipal office is nearing completion and is a house the Municipality can be justly proud of.

See the new spot beam bed lamp, it can be used in a dozen different places and it is as new as the World's Fair, and prices right too.

Art. Hopkins is responsible for last Friday's rainquitting as he needed to town and get material to patch his roof with.

There is a Westinghouse electric refrigerator to suit your needs and your purse. They will pay for themselves in health and food savings. Let us tell you about the "We-Ing-house."

There should be something done about a new boiler's seat, the old one has been removed from the front of the new Municipal office, says Jim Brown.

Adjustable Metal window screens in the two popular sizes, screen cloth in all widths and a replacement of screen door hardware. Don't give the flies a chance, get prepared.

Walt Nielson reports that winning cards is no trick at all with our Electric fence, and wins does the trick. We have fences from $7.50 to $35.50, come in and get a job.

Of course this could still happen in Champion.

LEGISLATION Homesteading

In the province of Alberta since Oct. 1st 1930, twenty four thousand one hundred homesteads (24100) have been filed on; and in the same period nineteen thousand (19000) homesteads have been abandoned.

Provincial Lands Act 1939
This Act amends and consolidates The Provincial Lands Act.

The main change made by this Act is to be found in sections 13 to 34 (both inclusive). These provisions are in substitution for the provisions in an earlier Act which provided for homesteading. The new provisions provide for the granting of agricultural leases of not more than 320 acres of agricultural land to persons who do not own any farming land.

The leases are for a term of 30 years and are renewable for further terms of 20 years.

A lease on any parcel of agricultural land will be granted to the applicant who first applies for it, and at the time of the granting of the lease the rent will be fixed by the Minister and the price of the land at which the lessee may become the purchaser will also be fixed.

The lessee will become entitled to become the purchaser of the land at the price fixed at any time after the expiration of the first ten years of the lease, providing that the lessee is then subsisting.

The interest of the lessee in the leased land cannot be assigned without the consent of the Minister and is not assignable for the first two years of the lease and assignable only to a person eligible to obtain an agricultural lease.

The lessee is under an obligation to take possession of and commence to reside upon the leased land within six months next after the date of his lease and thereafter to reside on the land for at least six months in each year and in default to erect a habitable dwelling house of a value of at least $200 and to cultivate the land in each year, and in case he is an alien to become a British subject within six years of the date of the lease.

Such leases are subject to cancellation for the non-payment of rent or for breaches of the lessee's covenants subject to the right of the Minister to waive the payment of rent or the performance of covenants in proper cases.

The remainder of the Act deals with timber permits, the sale of school lands by private contract when school lands have not been sold at anytime within two years after the holding of such sale at the upset price at such sale. It also empowers the Minister to demand and collect the expenditure incurred by the Dept. in preventing or extinguishing fire on any land.

This Act came into force on April 13 1939.

Baseball games were played in Shamessay on Sunday with Barons boys coming on top 12 to 0

Welcome

King George who is making history by visiting his subject in Canada.

Summing up his address of welcome Premier King, on behalf of all Canadians said "May I be permitted to say that the warmth of such welcome as you Majesties will ever receive is found up in a very special way with the whole of the Canadian people."

It is of heart and cheerfulness which you possess for what you are in yourselves. In your daily lives were exemplified a G.O.L. concern for human beings, consideration to public service, delight in the simple joys of home and family life. Greater than our sense of the splendour of your state is our affection for two young people who bear so high a spirit a responsibility unparalleled in the world.

Farmers And Business Men Happy
Soaking Showers General

Farmers of the district are wearing big smiles these days because of the general rains which fell over the district on this week. Rain started Saturday and with intervals of sunshine continued to Wednesday.

While crops were bothered with grasshoppers growth was retarded by lack of moisture. Seeding in the district was about the same as last year notwithstanding in wheat acreage reported to the Chronicle.

It is too early to make predictions but everything points to a bumper crop.

Champion has lost another prominent man with death coming Wednesday night. William Jopling, 64 years old, died at his home of 1033 and 1035, after a long illness.

Born on April 12 1880 at Lakelse, N. Dakota, Mr. Jopling came to Champion in 1913 and has been a continuous resident here. He was married Dec. 16, 1916. He was in the mercantile business, farm machinery and the local American Oil Co., but always found time to promote community interests. He was an officer for the Community Club, Masonic order and the Elks. In the latter much of his success was due to his efforts.

The infirmity with which he was afflicted during his illness was characterized by his life.

Surviving is a surviving wife and daughter Ruth, as well as his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Jopling, these others, Harvey, Channing, John, Yakim, Sam, Spokane and one sister, Mrs. Ruth S. Peter, Miss Rivers, the teacher, professional him.

Educational Standards

The object of the Large School is to give every boy and girl in Alberta a real chance in life, because our youth are our greatest heritage. The Dept. of Education of the University of Alberta was on the air last week giving information regarding the large school unit and its advantages to the rural school population. Every one recognizes the advantages to be obtained from Modernized Education. The Old school system was the former way of educating and served its purpose, but through the advancement of the sciences and Arts in the past the old system is not sufficient to equip our youth to meet the keen competition in the business world.

What is all this going to cost the taxpayer? The records show a definite saving to the taxpayer. The following shows the cost of operation for the year 1935, before reorganization, and 1937 the first year of operation under the larger unit system.

Costs in 1935

Leaky Creek $27,863.87 $2,881.62
St. Mary's River 7,747.17 7,177.17
Pawnee 101,485.10 57,540.51
Express 24,930.28 53,733.09
Tully 23,058.11 22,257.11
Tully 16,570.39 23,889.00
Lethbridge 10,010.03 9,628.76
Keston 6,511.00 5,508.83
Sullivan Lake 14,927.68 14,221.54
Peace River 45,917.29 43,148.58
See St. Anne 63,513.81 64,907.54

8074,297.01 8028,708.28

A total saving the first year of $51,083.35. Besides better conditions were given. School conditions were improved. Past unpaid obligations were paid off.

When given a fair trial, the large unit organization will prove a great success.

Work has started on the painting of the United Church.

Members of the local Masonic order visited Nobleford Tuesday evening, exemplifying a degree.

NATIONAL UNITY

Genuine and enthusiastic welcome accorded the King and the Queen in all parts of Canada, holds for the thoughtful readers a message of the unity which, despite words to the contrary, does prevail in the hearts of the people in Canada.

Both the King and the Queen, the latter in laying the corner stone of the New Supreme Court Building in Ottawa, have stressed the example which Canada is showing to the world, the spirit of tolerance and co-operation among the people with vastly different racial origin, religion and economic conditions, all working to maintain the ideals of a free and peace loving democratic country.

As we journey to Calgary on Friday and see the King and Queen pass it is well to remember that in addition to paying homage to a Noble King and a Gracious Queen that we are also expressing our belief, unconsciously of course, in our form of democratic government and the ideals which have long been associated with British tradition.

The Royal visit should result in a renewed pledge to make Canada great, a task which every boy and girl, and every man and woman has a part to play.

PRESS AND DEMOCRACY

It is not unfitting as we are all thinking of British traditions in terms of the visit of the King and Queen to point that one of the essential principals of democracy is freedom of the press and this is especially true when the matter is being given prominence in the United States at the moment.

Recently a statue of freedom of the press at the World's Fair was dedicated while President Roosevelt is keenly interested in the movement for making the public conscious of the true concept of a newspaper. A committee of the American Newspaper Association suggest that the newspaper industry be entirely exempt from the Federal wage and hour law of the United States because it is rendering service rather than producing goods, which principle for the most part is held by many of the provinces in Canada.

Discussing the duty of the press, Irvin Dilliard of the St. Louis Post Dispatch as reported in the Christian Science Monitor says:

The press must tell what the news means. True significance is not always apparent. On the contrary, meaning is often unrevealed. It is the place of the newspaper in this complex time to show, through its editorial columns, how events fit into the stream of history, to help readers understand their always changing order in terms of the never-ceasing flow of great forces—social, economic and scientific.

But the editorial page which merely interprets the news, however diligently and helpfully it might do that, would fall far short of its responsibility in a democracy. For a newspaper must not only print the news and tell what it means, but it must throw itself with all its strength into the democratic process. The first plank in every newspaper's platform today should be to make democracy work.

The most serious threat to American democracy, as I see it, is not political pressure on the outside but great economic inequality on the inside. If this is true, and it seems self-evident, the press must work for a more equal economic structure within and under the Constitution—an economic structure which spread more broadly among the people the benefits of our great natural resources. This clearly means among other things, upholding and encouraging the free organization of workers for collective bargaining. It means the achieving of industrial democracy as the best protection against the lures of demagogues.

Class struggles are rocks on which democracy founders. The press must rise above narrow group interests and stand frankly for the good of the broad base of American society.

Stan Patton Orchestra

Stan Patton, creator of the "Musical Patterns by Patton" which have delighted thousands of Coast dancers and CBC radio listeners, brings his distinctively styled dance orchestra to Champion on Wednesday, June 14th for a one night appearance in the course of a tour of Western Canadian provinces.

Patton appears here under the sponsorship of Champion Community Hall and Mart Kenney, conductor of the famous "Western Gentlemen". The two Vancouver maestros have been friends for a number of years, as Patton's band has taken over summer engagements in the Spanish Grill of Hotel Vancouver for the past three seasons, while Kenney and his men fulfilled seasonal contracts in Toronto.

Now just 24, Patton is regarded as one of Canada's ablest young leaders and arrangers. A lover of intricate and entertaining effects in rhythms, Patton scores "stock" arrangements and writes distinctive scores for all his numbers with the aid of Ernie Buchanan, his pianist.

Like Mart Kenney, Patton plays a saxophone while conducting. He also blows a mean chorus on the clarinet.

His nine-piece organization, which has "So Beats My Heart for you" as its theme song, includes four "rhythm" men, three saxophones and two "brass". He is also able to achieve a three violin effect because of the versatility of his men, who play a total of some 35 instruments.

Soloist with the band and a young man who has been proving very popular with British Columbia audience is Frank Loun. Other members of the band are guitarist, Marv. Johnston, pianist Ernie Buchanan, drummer Tommy Mack, saxophonist Mart Lecky and Ozzie McComb, trumpeter Jack Smedley and trombonist Byron Hansen.
